

EPOXY PHENOLIC COATING AS BARREL LININGS

At Delta Coatings we have over 30 years of on line operational experience by offering a full product line of interior and exterior FDA approved epoxy phenolic coatings that are regarded as one of the best in the for barrels, drums, pails, and fittings.

Common uses are:

- epoxy coating
- steel barrel liner
- pail liners
- barrel liner
- shipping container liners
- metal can coatings
- food can coatings
- epoxy phenolic coating drum
- FDA approved epoxy liners

One of the advantages of using our barrel liners is our multi-product formulations that will perform exceptionally consistent, meet all EPA requirements, while affording a competitive value in the steel drum and pail coating industry.

Accelerated liner compatibility testing, production line audits, and our environmental reporting services are just a few of the coating liner services we offer to our valued customers. Additionally, our barrel liners meet FDA, USDA, and Kosher certification, in conjunction with excellent chemical resistance adhesion and impact flexibility. Quality is our top priority, therefore when manufacturing our epoxy phenolic coatings, we start with approved and laboratory tested raw materials and continue our process using only ASTM Method Testing on all formulations and finished products.

. . . and all Delta container coatings are available in HAP'S & TAP'S free formulations!

With our coating menu of hundreds of extensive colors, consistent performance, quality and Technical Service, Delta Coatings is one source shopping for your complete drum coating needs.
